WHISKY WAR.

Women's Crusade Against the Liquor-Sellers in Southern Ohio—Un-conditional Surrender of the Wickedest Man—Remarkable Scenes and Inci-

[Cincinnati (Feb. 5) Cor. Chicago Tribune.] The most noteworthy features in the news from the Women's whisky war today is the intelligence of the sudden surrender of Van Pelt, at New Vienna, Ohio, who was rapidly becoming known as the wickedest man in Ohio. Van Pelt swore he would never capitulate, but yesterday he gave up the struggle very unexpectedly. A dispatch from New Vienna says a request was circu-lated from Van Pelt, inviting all the citizens to appear in front of his place of business at 2 p. m. At 1 p. m., the ladies met at the Baptist church, and at 2 they took up their march, about 100 in number, to Van Pelt's. The church bells were all rung, and in a few minutes an immense crowd was assembled in front of the saloon where so many prayers have been offered. After sing-ing and prayer by the ladies Van Pelt came to the door and said that he was ready to give up his entire stock in trade for the good of the cause of temperance. In a few remarks, full of emotion, he expressed his determination to make a full surrender, not because of law or of force, but he said he yeilded to the simple labors of love of heart. He then gave the Rev. D. Hill, rolled out two barrels and one keg. Van Pelt then took an ax, and stepping forward, held it up, crying "This is the same weapon I use to terrify the ladies. I now use it to sacrifice that tioners, and give to suffering hu-which I fear has ruined many souls." manity the benefit of his accidental diswhich I fear has ruined many souls."

He had felt for some days deep convicreferred to his saloon as a low doggery, saying, "Yes, I'll call it a low doggery, a man for whisky, when he knew the money had been carned by his wife or sion of horseflesh into the pu child. Every man who sells whisky dietary.—London Medical Record. does this. Little faces thus robbed had often appealed to his heart with greater force than any words of man. He was now determined to quit this business forever, and throw his strength on the other side of the question. He thought places of innocent amusement and resort ought to be established to entertain those who seek company at saloons. He believed this emphatically a ladies' He believed God had led them into this work. He wanted to encourage them to go on till the country is Pomeroy, Meigs county. At Pomeroy, yesterday, fifty ladies organized and visited the saloons, singing and pray-ing for the proprietors, and against the sale of liquors. This is their first demonstration.

At Washington, Fayette county, an injunction has been granted by Judge Safford, against fifty-seven of the ladies a good day's work.

In the doctors, and not good and doctored with five doctors, and not good and good an engaged in the crusade. In obedience to this legal demand, the tabernacle adjoining Beeks' beer-garden has been removed. Counter-suits have been instituted against the saloon-keepers by the wives of tipplers.

At Greenfield, Highland county, resisting druggist was fined yesterday, and many new cases are pending against him.

Ladies' Logic.

In the talk of some ladies who move in a tolerable good position, but whe have been imperfectly educated, I have heard droll specimens of illogical reasoning. The following are two instances. A married lady with a family, who lived in a villa in the extrior environs of London, was asked why she was at the expense of keeping a cow seeing that it would be surely much cheaper to buy milk for the household. "Well," said she in reply, "we keep the cow because we have a field quite at hand, which answers very nicely." "But," was the rejoinder, "why do you rent the field?" The answer was: "Because, you know, we have got the cow !" The other instance occurred in my younger days at Reebles. A lady in reduced circumstances mentioned to a friend that she had just arranged to rent a house belonging to a baker in the town. The friend was somewhat surprised at the announcement, considering the lady's circumstances, and asked if the expense would not be too much for her. not at all," was the answer ; " we'll take bread for the rent!"-Dr. R. Chambers,

WAITING FOR HIM .- "Who hurt you, bub?" asked a pedestrian yesterday, of a small boy who sat howling on the curbstone. "Johnny Kydd," sobbed the victim, "I'll see about him if he does it again," remarked the man, condolingly, but the son suddenly stopped howling and exclaimed, "Just leave him alone. When I grow up I'll get on the police force, and then I can belt him all I want to !"

Another Theory Concerning Dreams. A novel and interesting theory as to the nature of dreams was lately pro-pounded before the Royal Medical Institution, by Prof. Humphrey, of Cambridge, England, defining dreams as not a normal accompaniment of sleep, but rather a result of the abnormal or imperfect condition of the organ of mental action. In the natural state, he says, we should pass from wakefulness to complete unconsciousnes, and vice versa, almost instantaneously, and this is the case with many persons; more frequently, however, the transition is protracted, and stages are observed in which the sleep is but partial. In this case, according to Prof. Humphrey, the cerebral organ being in an imperfect state, its action is imperfect, and the first effect of the lessening of its vital vigor is a loss of the highest form of mental power-the control over the mental operations; and, in this condition, the thoughts ramble unchecked, chase one another confusedly over the mental field, and give rise to all sorts of incongruities of the imagination.

Six Millions.—About two years ago, Dr. J. Welker, an old and prominent physician of California, discovered, by actual experience upon his own system, a medicine which may honestly be termed "a boon to suffering humanity."
